The Concept of a Third Space

A “Third Space” is a social environment distinct from the home (first space) and the workplace (second space). In the context of what we are looking to achieve it refers to public places where people can gather and socialize outside of their homes and workplaces. Think well resourced parks, community centers and accompanying facilities. These spaces are important for building a sense of community and belonging, as they provide opportunities for informal social interactions, relaxation, and enjoyment in a safe and well maintained setting.

This concept is informing our approach as a taskforce.

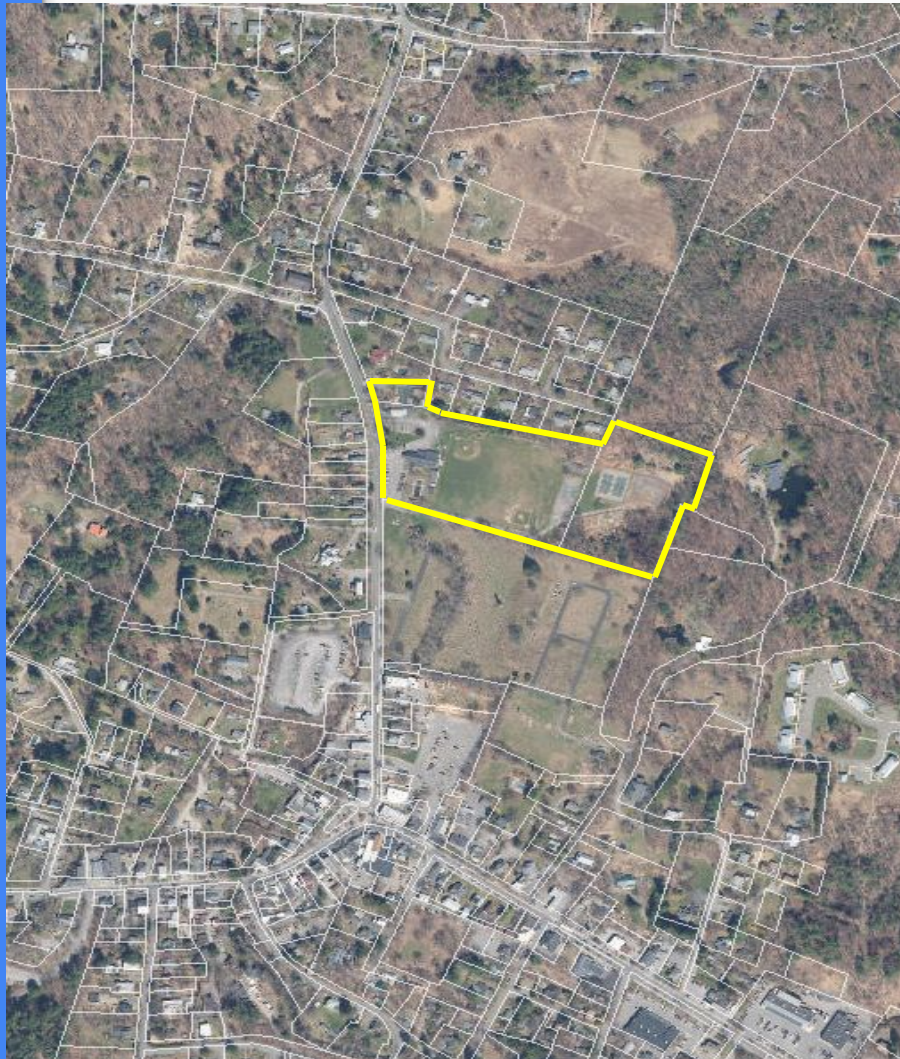

Mission Statement

- "We envision the transformation of the Woodstock Youth Center and Andy Lee campus into a vibrant community hub, fostering a safe, inclusive, accessible, and nurturing space for our youth and for all. Through this investment in Woodstock's future, we aim to strengthen intergenerational ties and enhance the appeal of our town for families. With a focus on health, recreation, and community connection, we strive to establish a third space that serves as a cornerstone for the holistic well-being of our youth and the entire community."

Today's Youth Center & Rec Field

The heart of Woodstock

Actually Four Parcels Owned by Woodstock

1. Current Skate Park
2. Buildings and Field
3. Tennis Courts and
Community Garden
4. Other Area

Current Layout

- Youth Center and Skate Park in northwest corner near Rock City Rd
- Community Center close to parking lot and entrance
- Pool (used only by camp in summer)
- Two baseball fields
- Access road
- Community garden
- Playground
- Tennis court (2)
- Basketball court
- Pavilion (2)

Current State of Youth Center Building

- History of the Woodstock Youth Center Building
 - The Woodstock Youth Center is a 1½ story building converted from a 2-story home that had an extension built on.
- Youth Attendance is Increasing
 - Average daily visits up about 25-30% versus last year
 - Overall visits up 6,202 sign-ins in 2022 and now 8,391 in 2023 vs 2022
- Current Offerings - various programs and equipment including tutoring, computers, video games, a single basketball hoop, skate park, etc..
- More Space is Needed
- Building in Need of Repairs or Replaced - size, layout, facilities, issues that are covered under the WEC report if anyone is interested in reading it
- Proximity to Road/Lines of Sight are Issues - Potential for accidents – ie people entering parking area through an area marked One Way
- Indoor Sporting Facilities Needed - (Covered skatepark, Indoor gymnasium. etc..)

History of Youth Center and Rec Field

Prior to 1790 - Lenape hunting grounds

1790s-1920s - farmland

1948 - Fish & Game club donate land to town as a "living war memorial"

1950s - pool donated to the Town, Little League
begins

1956 - Local teen Andy Lee killed in tragic hunting accident; local teens petition to have Rec Field renamed after Andy Lee

1974 - Town acquires St. Joan's church and Youth Center building

1990 - basketball court added

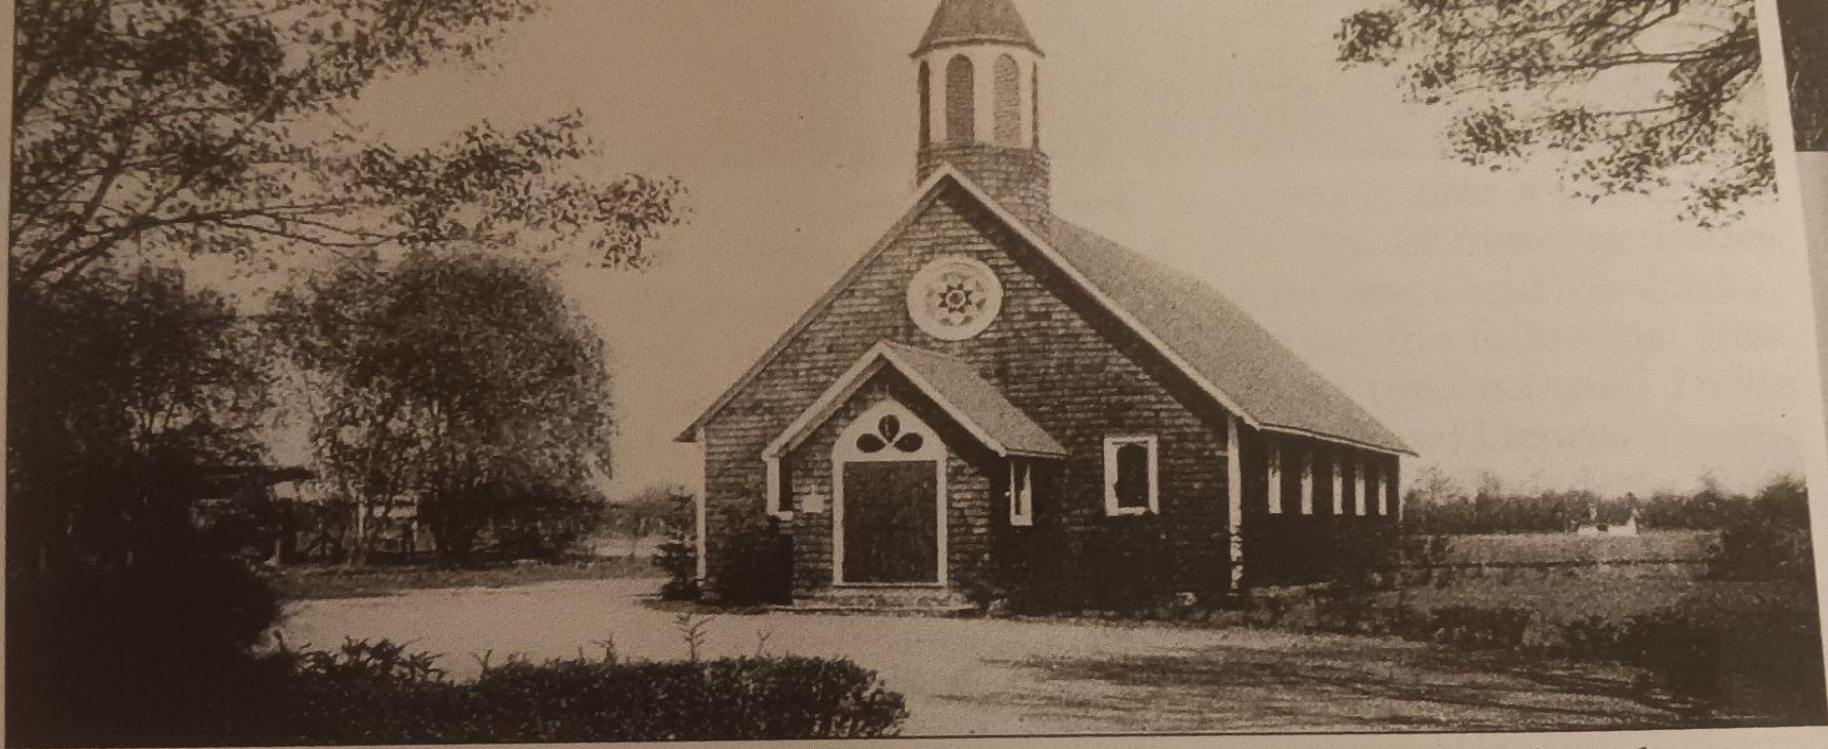

Early 2000s - community garden founded

Andy Lee

About halfway up Rock City Road lies the Woodstock recreation field named in honor of Andy Lee. And yet not many Woodstockers know why it bears the name it does or who Andy Lee was. Andy Lee was the type of teenager who would make any town proud. An excellent student, Lee also participated in a wide variety of extracurricular activities while attending Kingston High School (as Woodstock students did during the 1950s). He served as vice president of the student council and treasurer of the junior class. Lee also excelled at football, having been selected as a member of Kingston's varsity team as a sophomore. Well-loved by his fellow students, Andy Lee was selected as both the best athlete and most popular boy by the junior class. Andy Lee's life came to a tragic end on a cold January day in 1956. While hunting with two friends, one member of the group, according to press accounts, slipped as he was about to fire upon partridges that had just taken flight. Lee was struck in the chest by the wayward round from his friend's 12-gauge shotgun. Andy Lee died before he could be taken to the hospital and was laid to rest in the Woodstock Cemetery next to the field that now bears his name.

ST. JOAN D'ARC CATHOLIC CHURCH. Just past the main cemetery, within the compound as the Andy Lee Memorial Field, is the building that was once home to the local Catholic parish. Construction on St. Joan d'Arc Catholic Church began in 1921, and Peter Spellman said the first Mass on June 25, 1922. (Author's collection.)

Master Plan

Environmental Design and Research of Saratoga Springs hired to develop Master Plan over the next 100 days (completed by end of summer). They were selected from six candidates.

Considerations:

- Expertise and experience
- Price point (they were very competitive)
- Responsiveness
- Extant resources on their team
- Fresh eyes
- Funding already apportioned by town board

Deliverables:

- Conducting focus groups with stakeholders
- Environmental impact assessment
- Graphic depiction of development
- Master plan with timeline and estimated budget
- Presentation to town board

Financial Support

Four sources of government and public funding:

- Local
- County
- State
- Federal

Private Fundraising

- Muffins to Millions

Next Steps

1. Engagement: Themes and ideas addressed in public be heard meetings and listening sessions have been consolidated. Public is encouraged to continue to send ideas to <youthcentertaskforce@woodstockny.org>.
2. Development: EDR <https://www.edrdpc.com/> is beginning the process of creating master plan options. EDR will conduct additional stakeholder interviews as part of the process.
3. Feedback: Master plan options will be presented for public input and feedback before 9/1/24. Participatory focus groups with key stakeholders will be held to share the proposals and garner feedback on them.
4. Present: Findings and present recommendations to the town board in a public forum.
5. Fundraising: Public and private funds will be pursued with several committee members having experience in fundraising
